PART FOUR

Principles Regarding Education, Exams and Assessments

|-----------------------------|-----|-----|---|
| Educational Programs | 18. | (1) | The courses of an associate or undergraduate curriculum, the contents of these courses, credit / hour and ECTS credits, the graduation requirements of the program are prepared by the relevant department / program chair and recommended to the relevant academic boards. Associate or undergraduate programs are finalized with the approval | of the University Senate after being accepted by the relevant academic boards. Issues regarding the conduct of the courses in a curriculum are decided by the academic boards of the relevant units.

(2) The courses in the associate degree or undergraduate education programs are divided into two groups as compulsory and elective. The compulsory courses to be taken in a curriculum, elective course requirements and elective courses that can be taken are specified in the programs.

(3) Apart from the courses specified in the curriculum, students can also take courses in line with their interests. These courses are shown with the student's grade on the transcript, the grades taken from these courses are not included in the grade point averages and are not evaluated in terms of graduation requirements. These courses are shown as NI in the transcript and cannot be substituted for another course specified in the program.

Credit / Hour and
ECTS Loads
Per Course

19. (1) The load of a course is defined in two credits / forms: credit / hour load and ECTS credit load. Credit / hour load is a value created based on the weekly theoretical, laboratory and in-class practice hours of that course. ECTS credit load is a value created by the department teaching the course, depending on the workload of the course and recommended as 30 ECTS for each semester of the curriculum. Weekly, one hour of theoretical course is one credit, one hour of practice or laboratory is 0.5 credits. An ECTS credit load roughly corresponds to a student's 25 or 30 hours of study in a semester. The credit load and ECTS credit load of other educational activities such as workshop, studio, field practice and internship are determined by the University Senate upon the proposal of the relevant boards. Except for the theoretical part of a course, the credit / hour load of all activities cannot exceed four.

(2) The regular semester / year course load that students can take in one semester / year is proposed by the relevant academic boards and decided by the University Senate. Non-credit courses are not included in the semester / year course load. Course loads of certificates and similar courses not included in the education program of the department are not counted towards the student's semester / year course load. Courses taken from certificates and similar programs are not transferred to undergraduate / associate degree, minor and double major programs.

(3) Associate and undergraduate programs of each academic year are passed by the relevant boards until the end of May of the previous academic year and are decided by the Senate.

(4) The academic semester / year of a student is determined starting from the semester / year in which the student first enrolled in an associate or undergraduate program. The academic year in which the student enrolls for the first time is the first academic year. The course success of the student is not taken into account in determining the academic year.

(5) The maximum course credit / hour load that a student of an academic unit can take in each semester / year is the highest credit / hour load determined by the Senate.

- (6) Course load to be taken by the student in one semester / year; In cases where the weekly course schedule is mandatory or if there is a justified and valid reason, the student's request, excluding the first academic year courses, can be reduced with the recommendation of the academic advisor and the approval of the head of the relevant department and the approval of the dean's / directorate. Students in this situation cannot register for less than two courses in each semester / year.
- (7) Successful students, who have studied at least one year or two semesters in their associate and undergraduate program, have their semester / year course load, 3 credits or one course if their GPA is at least 3.5, and a maximum of 6 if their GPA is more than 3.75 or 3.75. credit or two courses.
- (8) If a student is able to graduate at the end of the fall or spring semester of the current academic year, an extra course may be given for each semester in addition to the maximum credit load. However, students who are likely to graduate at the end of summer school cannot benefit from this additional course right.
- (9) Students cannot retake the courses from which they were exempted in order to increase their grades.
- (10) A student can take a maximum of four courses, not exceeding 10 credit hours, during the summer school. This condition includes courses taken from outside the institution. If the student is able to graduate at the end of the summer school he / she is in, he / she can register for one more course, in addition to the above, either inside or outside the institution.

Attendance Status

- (1) Students are obliged to attend lectures, laboratories and applications in line with the policies determined by the relevant academic units, to participate in all kinds of exams and other studies envisaged by the lecturer in the semester / year. The rules regarding the attendance of the students are put in the course curriculum by the instructor and announced in the first week of the semester / year and the attendance of the students is monitored according to these rules. A student who does not fulfill the attendance obligation of a course for whatever reason, including health problems documented by a medical report and suspension with disciplinary punishment, fails from that course. These students cannot take the semester / year-end exam and their semester / year-end grades are evaluated as NA. The same rules apply to minor and double major programs. The lists of the students evaluated with NA grade are announced to the students by the instructor of the course within the last week of the semester at the latest, and the students on this list are removed from the final exam lists. NA grade cannot be given to students who take the semester exams.

National and International Programs

- (1) The university can run student exchange programs with universities in Turkey and abroad. Students can take courses from other contracted universities within the conditions and quotas set by the Rectorate, in accordance with the regulations in force and the principles set by the Senate.

- (2) Students who go to the contracted universities within the scope of the exchange program pay the tuition fees valid for the relevant semester / year to the University.
- (3) Within the scope of the exchange program, a faculty member from each unit is assigned as the exchange program coordinator in order to assist the students who will go to the contracted universities in the selection of the courses they will take before they go, to monitor their education at the university they go to, and to communicate with the student during the education.
- (4) The courses to be taken by the student within the framework of the exchange program are determined by the exchange programs coordinator and the head of the department / program, taking into account the course content, local and ECTS credits before going to the student exchange program, and are decided by the relevant administrative board. The student cannot claim a right for the adjustment of the courses not specified in the decisions of the board of directors but taken by the student.
- (5) Adjustment of courses taken in exchange programs that are considered successful according to the institution where the course is taken; The proposal of the department / program chair and the decision of the relevant board of directors. The courses whose orientation is decided by the relevant board of directors are recorded on the student's transcript with the code of the institution where the course is taken, name, credit load and ECTS credit load.
- (6) Students coming to the University within the scope of exchange programs may not pay tuition fees to the University depending on the terms of the relevant agreement. These students are not awarded a diploma or title; however, a transcript showing the courses and grades they have taken is given.
- (7) Due to the differences in the academic calendars of the institutions, only the final exam at the end of the semester / year can be put on an early date by specifying in the academic calendar. These students also do not schedule a make-up exam.

Domestic

22. (1) Students can take a maximum of 4 courses from a higher education institution in the fall, spring semesters or summer semesters, provided that they are given in the language of instruction in their program and approved by the relevant administrative board, from the courses not offered at the University during their education. In the summer term, a student who is not on probation cannot take a course from another institution for which he has never registered. On the other hand, students who are on probation can enroll in other institutions for the courses in the academic year and below. Students who can graduate at the end of the fall or spring semesters can take courses from other institutions in accordance with the maximum credit conditions.
- (2) The approval of the eligibility of the content, credit and ECTS credits of the courses to be taken from another institution is made with the recommendation of the advisor before the course is taken, the proposal of the department or program chair and the decision of the relevant board of directors.

- (3) The courses that a student has taken from an institution in Turkey or abroad, with the approval of his / her academic unit executive board, and successfully or conditionally; The same code, name, credit load, ECTS load and grade of the course are recorded on the transcript before the semester / year registration renewal date and are included in the grade point averages. If the grade received by the student is different from the evaluation system of the University, the grade is converted into the University's success grades and recorded on the document.

Exams

23. (1) At least one midterm and one semester / year-end exam are held among the evaluation activities of each course. If the lecturer deems appropriate, the course lecturer can evaluate homework, lab and similar semester / year work in giving the semester / year-end grade. The student's course grade is appreciated by the instructor, taking into account the results of the midterm exams and the semester / year-end exam, and the semester / year studies and attendance to the classes. The relevant lecturer is authorized to determine the weights of midterm and semester / year-end exams and to convert these grades into course success grade, with a contribution of at least 40% of the semester / year-end exam. The rules for evaluation are clearly stated in the course curriculum at the beginning of the semester / year and announced to the students.
- (2) The dates, places and times of the midterm exams are planned by the deans / directorates and announced within two weeks at the latest after the add-delete week. Semester / year-end exams are planned and announced by the Rectorate according to the academic calendar. If needed, midterm exams and final exams can be held on Saturdays and Sundays.

The petition of the student is sent to the department / program heads responsible for the courses for which he / she wants an excuse and to all the lecturers of the courses the student is enrolled in that semester, including the excuse date range. It is checked by the lecturer who takes the course of that semester whether the student has a midterm and / or final exam in the time he is excused, and if it is determined that the student has taken the exam, the relevant department / program head is notified. Whether the student is given an excuse, midterm and / or final exam right is under the authority of the department / program chair. Determination of Success Status

29. (1) The student's success is determined by calculating the Grade Point Average at the end of each semester / year. The student's score is determined by multiplying the credit hour value of the course and the corresponding coefficient (between 0-4). The semester / year grade point average (DNO) is calculated by dividing the student Grades from the courses taken in that semester / year by the total credits of the courses taken, and this score is called the student's Grade Point Average for that semester on the 0-4 grade indicator.
- (2) Grade Point Average (GPA) is the number calculated by dividing the sum of the points that the student has received from all the courses that he has taken by the total credits that have been assigned to those courses until the end of that semester. In the event that the student has repeated courses, the final grade obtained from those courses is valid for the Cumulative Grade Point Average, but all grades of the student will still be shown on the transcript.
- (3) A student with a GPA of 2.00 or higher is considered successful, and a student with a GPA between 1.80 and 1.99 is considered conditionally successful. If the GPA of a student is below 1.80 at the end of the second, third and fourth academic years, the student is considered to be on probation. For students who start their education in the fall semester, the first probation is determined at the end of the fourth semester, and for students who start education in the spring semester, the first probationary status is determined at the end of the third semester.
- (4) Grade averages are calculated as two digits after the comma and rounded up when the third digit after the comma is 5 or greater than 5 and rounded down when the number after the comma is less than 5.
- (5) The grades of the courses taken during the Summer semester at the university are included in the GPA.
- (6) Students who have received an NA grade shall not be included in the calculation of success rates for the course at the end of the semester / year.
- (7) Ranking the Departments, Programs, Faculties and College's of the University shall be determined by a separate set of Codes.

Evaluation of Success in Courses

- (a) A student who gets A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C or S grades from a course is considered successful in this course.
 - (b) A student who gets one of the C-, D+ or D grades from a course is considered conditionally successful from this course.
